The great topic of conversation here is the president's proclamation. It is the engrossing thems. I see there are certain papers published in and around Chicago, of the Valladigham stripe, that have made the wooderful sand sapient discovery that the proclamation is odicus to the army. I pronounce this a mall-clous and willful libel on the character of the brave men of the army of West Tennesse. The president has never leaved and so generally and unequivocally endowed as this proclamation of fixedom, which stands up amid the darkness of this rebellion, and like the wondrous Pharns of old, and throws out light on the dark and the topic of the controlled waters, by which the ship of State can be asyigsted in salety, escaping the rey on which it was near being erected. is it and troubled waters, by value, escaping of Blaic can be arrigized in safety, escaping of Blaic can be arrigized in safety, escaping of Blaic can be arriging to the safety of the

STORIES OF COTTON PLANTERS.

The Bulletin of to-day has the following in regard to cotton: Scarcily a day passes that hundreds of our "country consists" do not come in with the article, which they are willing to part with at prices ranging from thirty-flue to sixty cents! Some of them tell us that the confederate guerillas fortid their bringing more than a bale at the time. They only wink at it, as a special favor to the needy planters who are wanting in the necessary family supplies. On our binfi almost any day there will be found a whole regiment of conary wagons and carts, all having one or more bales, and seems of it brought from fifty to 100 miles to get to our market. The guerillas, after all, are sambles. Though their master, Jeff., says are sambles. Though their master, Jeff., says are sambles. Though their master, Jeff., says as they clight to call themselves, they will have marcy and let the cotton come, to order that burger may be satured. Our people buy very readily all the cotton which comes to market, and at prices which pay the planter well for bringing it to market. Let them, then, bring it along.

THE HOWA VOLJETBERS.

There is but one regiment of Io wa volunteers at present in Fort Picknop, the Sta, I helica. I yetlerday met a gentlemm from Southern own, appointed a commissioner to vist this control present mount. Iowa does well to allow her soldlers the right of swilzage, wherever they was be found.

improved his opportunity as Napoleon or any other general would have done. Mr. Lincoln desired to keep McClellan in Washington, thinking him a better defensive than offensive general, and accordingly offered for Richa and comfided to other hands. An why not? West Point has ruled this wa from the commencement, and what is the result? At the East we have been most dis Brigadiers now in service ...

There may be those who think that the nomnation of Col. Henderson against Hon.
Owen Loveloy, in this district, is the only instance in the State where such nomination to a been made—where a few disaffected Republicars have joined the partisan Democracy in putting up a Republican to ran against the regular Union candidate. But such is not the case. In the 4th district, Jadge Taompson of Mercer county, who claims to be a Republican, has been trotted out against Judge Lawrence, the Union mominee. The same arguments urged against Mr. Lovejoy are urged against Judge Lawrence. He is accused of ultr. ism, funsticism, radicalism, abolitionism, and all the other isms that the imagination can devise. In the third dis-rict efforts are being made to Induce Judge Heaton to allow the use of his name against Mr. Washburne. In this case it is the same old story. Washburne is charged with abolitionism, and Heaton is claimed as a conservative.

It will thus be seen that the Henderson movement in this district is not in consequence of any mere personal objection to Mr. Lovejey. It is the outcropping of a matured plan of the Vallandigham Democracy to elect their men where they can, and where they cannot to assist in foist up finto Congress the weaked stind of opponents—those men who, if they will not actually join them and vote with them on a portion and oppose them in the very gentiest manner on all others. It seems to us that no honest all questions, will vote with them on a portion and oppose them in the very gentiest manner on all others. It seems to us that no honest voter—no well-wisher of this country, no ad-vocate of a vigorous prosecution of the war, can be led away by any suck canningly de-vised scheme of the enamy. Vets for Loveloy! Vote for Lawrence! Vote for Washburne!—Peords Transcript. A Question, Editors Chicago Tribune:

lives of destitution, drives from miscrable homes by sizvation and abuse. This class of humanity, perhaps the most pitiable of all, in any event appealing most strongly to our sympathy and humanity, the Home for the Friendless has gainered within its waits. There they have been nursed, fed, and kindly cared for imbred with the lessons of morality; reclaimed from the paths into which their young feet, through no fault of theirs, had strayed; transformed from the paths into which their young feet, through no fault of theirs, had strayed; transformed from the pithed, sharp faced, hungry, wretched waits of the gatter to fall-checked, roay, happy, laughing children. In all the list of good works, which it is allotted men or woman to perform, few are more shining, few will have a greater reward.

In the pursuance of this charity, the managers and friends of the Home have been indensityable. While they have best owed largely they have bestowed also with discretion. The administration of the Home has been conducted wisely and assactiously, and all its movemmints regulated by a proper economy. But the expenses are necessarily large. Multitudinous calls are made every day upon the public purse, and pressing appeals come from the poof of all classes, from the destitute soldiers, samilies and from the gallant fellows in the field, fighting our battles, and consequently the customary patronage of our citizens has been, of necessity, somewhat stinted. The stringency of the times imposes also the heavy and crushing weight upon the Home, and it is necessitated once more to call upon the public for help in the pursuance of its noble cutties. It asks for that help in sums so small that no one will feel their loss, promising in addition to give a quid pro-quo.

With this end in view the ladles and others, that no one will feel their loss, promising in addition to give aquid pro-quo.

With this end in view the ladies and others, friends of the Home, met at Bryan Hell, yesterday afternoon, to outline a programme for a grand festival two weeks hence, which shall occupy several days and embrace a variety of details, commending themselves to every charitable person. The meeting was largely attended and was very enthuisatic, if that may be predicated of a ladies' meeting, which usually pertains to the sterner sex. Various committees were appointed to canvass the city for donations, and we most cordially commend them to our citizens. Surely no one can refuse a lady's request, especially when that a lady comes to you for the sake of sweet charity. Committees were also appointed to arrange for the evening entertainments which will cellipse anything of the kind ever before given in Chicago—a perfect carnival in fact. The festival will probably extend through four days, and a programme will be arranged which cannot but tempt the most confirmed stay-attempt. The ladies are determined not only to feed the public as they were never fed before, but to open a musical, literary, and artistic bridget which shall appeal to all people of all insets.

Prat of all, the ladies will take time by the RECORDER'S COURT—Before Hon. R. S. Wilson,—James Ryan Chadwick, passing a counterfeit five dollar note, was placed on trial. After the testimony had been given the case was submitted without argument at a late hour. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty, and fixed the punishment at one year in the pruitentiary. The next case called was that of Raiph Taylor, who was indicted by the last Grand Jury for an alleged robbery of a soldier named Couley, some six weeks ago. Evily in the case it became apparent that Taylor was the victim of a conspiracy, and was entirely innocent of the crime charged. The States' Attorney therefore directed the jury to enter a verdict of not guilty, and the accused, was discharged. Mr. E. W. Evans, Taylor's counsel, then made a statement to the Court with reference to the character and standing of his client, and asserted that they were fully prepared to prove him innocent of the charge, and to place the reality guilty parties in his place. The Court expressed entire satisfaction as to the innocency of the accused, and regretted that he had been so long confloed on a groundless charge.

Libraries for the Soldiers.

Dr. Derby, surgeon in charge of the general hospital, Memphis, Tenn., in calling for various articles needed, presents the wants of his hospital for good substantial reading matter, such as will commend itself to the high cultivation and fine tastes of many of his patients. Hear what he says: "All our patients are desiring something to read. Wost of the are desiring something to read. Most of the matter furnished is of too light and trashy a character. The men can appreciate good reading. We want real books, such as could be given out as they are in libraries and the party taking them made responsible for their safe return. I am quite convinced that there safe return. I am quite convinced that there are but few places where more real good can be done for our soldiers, morally, than in large bospitals. Add Bibles among the books wanted."

They have commenced collecting at the rooms of the Sanitary Commission a library for the Doctor, and nave the following: One volume Mrs. Ople's books; Education and Knowledge; Happ Hours at Home; Converted Infiel; The Green Mountain Boys; One Testament; Rise and Progress of Religion in the Soul. There might be ten libraries of 200 volumes each made up in Calcago within a few days for the soldiers, if the citizens would take the trouble to send in what they do not take the trouble to send in what they do not need of real good books; those that are lying on their the lres and are not read once a month. Appeal to the Young Men.

Curcaso, Oct. 15, 1861.

Editors of Chicago Tribune: GENTLEMEN:—I notice in your columns today an invitation to the young men of Cook county to form a Union Working Cinb. As this invitation is signed by scores of respectable citizens of Chicago without distinction of party, Democrats and Republicans fused together, it is significant of the turn the fall campaign is taking. For one, I rejoice to see that Douglas' prophesy, that there would be but two parties at the North, traitors and patiots, is verified. How unseemly it would be, such how disastrous too, if the Democrats

I regret to have to complain in the case of Chas.

S. Adams, who was the first in the eader division wounded. He say he helphase condition without although every endeavor was made to have proper attention paid to him, the acting surgeon to the batteries, having refused to do anything, and being totally indifferent to the wounded committed to the care. A grave responsibility here rests upon come person, which should meet with thorough and prampt investigation.

The forms on 'Change to-day was highly exciting. The early displatches from Wall street reported gold at 1845, with an spward tendency. This caused an increase in the buyers of produce, and the leading markets were fairly "on the rampege" spwards; but towards the close, owing to displatches from New York, showing that gold had declined to 126, the markets closed dull, and the advance paid was not sustained. As soon, however, as the report of the Second Stock Board came in, with gold at 187%—a sudden reaction took place, and wheat, corn, and other produce closed feverish and excited—buyers being afraid to name a price.
